Jenny Beach

Artworks — According to Nature

A contemporary artist working across NSW and based in the Central West, Jenny Beach has lived between the remote outback, rural and regional centres, and the heart of the city — all at once. It is these differences and contradictions that shape her art practice.

She has a studio and gallery in the Old Bank of NSW building (circa 1902) in the historic Central West village of Millthorpe, and exhibits regularly across Eastern Australia. She has been commissioned to provide a collection of works for the DeRussi suites in Orange, to curate for charitable events, as a judge for exhibitions and awards, and to lead workshops at her studio, and across the remote parts of Australia.
